Sending HOLIDAY CARDS on a Time Crunch

If you have plans to send out a holiday card but haven't started yet, have no fear! These helpful tips, tricks and services make it easy to send the perfect card.

Find Your Photo

Choose a family photo or a special moment from your smart phone to include in your card design.

Consider Going With a Pro! Rally the family together for a professional photo session. You'll get high-quality photos to use for the rest of the year.

Design the Card

Here are a few online services to help you design a stunning card. Some will even mail them out for you!

▸ Minted
▸ Shutterfly
▸ Moo
▸ Canva
▸ Paper Source
▸ Etsy

Quick Printing

If you still need to print the card, stores like Costco and Staples offer quick turnaround times.

Mail

Make it a family affair! Each person has a different role — designate an envelope stuffer, sealer, stamper and address labeler. Throw on some music or a movie to make it more fun!

(!) *December 20, 2019 — USPS deadline for first-class mail to arrive before the New Year

STILL NOT ENOUGH TIME?
Try these options...

Happy New Year!

If the holidays are just too busy, send a New Year's greeting card. You'll buy yourself more time to design while also wishing your friends good fortune in 2020.

Go Digital.

Try an eCard instead. Several websites offer templates for beautifully designed digital cards that will be just as meaningful.

*United States Postal Service